

Died in Your Eyes

Kristinia DeBarge

I, I, just died in your eyes, eyes
Just died in your eyes, eyes
Just died in your eyes There's a silence in the air tonight
There's a secret we can hide behind no more
There's a distance we don't dare to go
And a million things that I don't wanna know Your hands are undressin' me
Your lips won't stop kissin' me
I hear you say you love me But baby you're lyin', lyin'
I see the truth you're hidin', hidin'
I look at you and I, I just died in your eyes, eyes Before I start cryin', cryin'
Give me a reason for tryin', tryin'
The one thing that keeps me alive
I just died in your eyes, eyes
Just died in your eyes, eyes From the window I've been lookin' through
I have seen the end of me and you
And it's not about who's right or wrong
When you wake up in the mornin', I'll be gone Your hands are undressin' me
Your lips won't stop kissin' me
I hear you say you love me But baby you're lyin', lyin'
I see the truth you're hidin', hidin'
I look at you and I, I just died in your eyes, eyes Before I start cryin', cryin'
Give me a reason for tryin', tryin'
The one thing that keeps me alive
I just died in your eyes, eyes
Just died in your eyes My hopes, my dreams, all I believed just died, died
Just died in your eyes, eyes
Baby you know, I know is what matters most
Just died, died, died in your eyes, eyes
Just died in your eyes, eyes, died in your eyes There's a silence in the air tonight
There's a secret we can hide behind no more Baby you're lyin', lyin'
I see the truth you're hidin', hidin'
I look at you and I, I just died in your eyes Before I start cryin', cryin'
Give me a reason for tryin', tryin'
The one thing that keeps me alive
I Just died in your eyes, eyes
Just died in your eyes, eyes
Just died in your eyes, I died in your eyes I, I, just died in your eyes
Just died in your eyes, just died in your eyes
