For No Reason

Milk Inc.

It's been a long time since you dared to show your face again
It's been a while since you pretended
You defended
Every damn mistake that you have madeIt's been a while since you came back for love
I guess you went
And finally found the nerve
But what makes you believe I'll play your game
When it's all the same ?You want me to take you back - for no reason
Want me to cut you some slack - for no reason
Wanna come back under my roof without proof
That anything's change
Nothing has changed
You want me to take you back - for no reason
Want me to cut you some slack - for no reason
Wanna come back under my roof without proof
That anything's change
Nothing has changedIt's been a long time since you told your friends I was the one
You're forgetting where you came from
Where you belong
Every sacrifice that I have madeWhat makes you think that I'm an easy prey
'Cause I don't buy the shit you say
What makes you believe I'll play your game
When it's all the same?
