It's Too Late

Forever Changed

Hey, I want to talk to you but it's too late.
The silence that you've kept has brought us here to the middle of the road.
Now, I want to be the savior in this mess.
I've waited here for hours by the phone.
When will you call me back?
All that we have shared is not lost.
You know history will never change.
Here and now, I want to know the truth.
You've got to let me down slowly.
Wait, we never had a chance to build our life.
If it was only me and you I'd be all right.
I need to let you go.
All that you have shared with me, I guess this is how it's meant to be.
Here and now, I want to know the truth.
You've got to let me down slowly.
I could never be the one you want...it's understood.
Apparently you moved on a long time ago with love.
Here and now, I want to know the truth.
You've got to let me down slowly.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/