

Gale of Winter

Wolfheart

Beauty so grandeur
Voice like the wind
That carries from afar
Flawless appearance
But shattered within
Her wings tear the sky above
Into the dark and the
 Everlasting night
 Into the welkin
She draws the stars
With frosty hands she guards a broken crown
 Skin cold and white as snow
Her eyes like the deepest waters
Raven hair is dancing with the storm
 That brought the frozen rain
She is the gale of winter
Pristine in grace
 All that's fragile is concealed
 Strength of a legion
 Might that compares
With forces of nature
Into the dark and the
 Everlasting night
 Into the welkin
She draws the stars
