Vampiria (Live in France)

Moonspell

Vampiria, you are my destiny
My only Love and true destiny
Vampiria...
Youre a beast, evil one
Above your head lays a Star
In your heart is buried the jewel of a Serpent who wished to die your red long tongue has her poison
And you will spread it as you breed
In a unique Transylvanian dream
Conceiving the creed of all creeds
Vampiria, fly Vampiria
In your eye burn, defying
All those who in silence sleep
In a city once named Desire
Dreaming with the entombed dear
The lady has fallen in a blossom
Spread far away by undesirable winds
To females conspiring in gloom
Hiding your pearls from the pigs
So open your arms !
They were shaped as wings
A serenade of revenge draw in your lips
The sombre hill youre staying in
Is now defined
And your Star had start to shine
Depart now on your bright wings
The world envy
The skies have always seduced you
Precious Queen
and you know your time has come
To fly away with Me, so far...
