

What Am I Doing Here?, Pt. 1

Chicane

So lay me down awake, new sound and I'll dream about you.
In worlds far away can't remember, can't forget, let the street lights guide you.
And I'll take you there, set you free, let you go then come back to me
And here's where I'll wait counting hours and the days, I can't tear myself away. So lay me down awake, new sound and I'll dream about you.
In worlds far away can't remember, can't forget, let the street lights guide you.
And I'll take you there, set you free, let you go then come back to me
And here's where I'll wait counting hours and the days, I can't tear myself away. So lay me down awake, new sound and I'll dream about you.
In worlds far away can't remember, can't forget, let the street lights guide you.
And I'll take you there, set you free, let you go then come back to me
And here's where I'll wait counting hours and the days, I can't tear myself away.
What the hell am I doing here?
What the hell am I doing here?
What the hell am I doing here?
What the hell am I doing here?
