

Readymade

Beck

An open road where I can breathe
Where the lowest low is callin' to me
I can pull myself back up, back down
Stuck together like a readymade And nobody knows where we been Cancelled rations are runnin' thin
Watches tick out of tune
Falling apart like a readymade My bags are waiting in the next life Rubbish piles fresh and plain
Empty boxes in a pawn shop brain
License plates stowaway
Standing in line like a readymade And my bags are waiting in the next life An open road where I can breathe
Where the lowest low is calling to me
I can pull myself back up, back down
Stuck together like a readymade And my bags are waiting in the next life
