You

Vega 4

You have the faith that kills the fear of being real.
Yeah, this is real and now for the first time,
I'm finally alive.
You take my first inside your hand,
you squeeze,
I understand, that I get lost in the politics of love.You still surprise me every day, You blanket me with grace,
You clear the static and you get me reconnectedYou put your fingers in my hair,
You broke into my head,
You sacrificed so you could feel like I do.You know that it's easier alone.
You know that it's easier alone but I can't be me without youYou see the day swallow me whole,
You see me bang my head off walls,
You put your face on mine and say,
"let it be".You said that everyone gets lost,
You pressed your mouth against my lips,
You sing a song but there's no strategy
In your melody love.You know that it's easier alone.
You know that it's easier alone but I can't be me without you.You have the faith that kills the fear of being real.
Yeah, this is real and now for the first time, I've arrived.You know that it's easier alone.
You know that it's easier alone but I can't be me without you.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/