

Spinal Compression

Fear Factory

Like the knife into my back
Cold hate within my spine
Freezing my nerves
This slow death consumes my mind
Shock waves through my soul
Compounding my fears
This depression on my life
My dead weight through the years I'm going to break I've had all that I can take Endurance wearing thin
Everything that's on my mind
Will crush my soul within
My feet sink into the ground
Embeds my roots of fate
Coursing through my blood vessels
Reality of hate Crushed by this fate
Under this weight
Crushed by this fate
Under this weight
I'm going to break
Because I've had
All that I can take Please stop this pressure weighing down on me
Please stop this pressure weighing down on me Please stop this pressure weighing down on me
Please stop this pressure weighing down on me Buried to my neck in waste
Debris of life itself
World spinning out of control
I feel like I'm in hell
Something's got to change
Something's got to give
Existential weight on mind
Is not my way to live Crushed by this fate
Under this weight
Crushed by this fate
Under this weight
I'm going to break
Because I've had
All that I can take Please stop this pressure weighing down on me
Please stop this pressure weighing down on me
