Chevelle

This city's saving grace
But who ever knows
Nobody knows
Why he'd roll the eyes back
Why he'd roll those eyes
Those heartless eyes well I won't pretend to lie
Once more protect my blinded sight
You'd say that I came from a fish
You mock the place where I exist

And that world is calling
So I'm crawling back to sea
Against the surge of waves that
Held us with an ancient grip beneath
Retreat to safer waters

Still learning what chaos kills
But who ever cares
Nobody cares like you do
Why we'd abandon time
Just shut the door

Why we'd come to the wall
Claim less is more

Well I won't pretend to lie
Once more protect my blinded sight
You'd say that I came from a fish
You mock the place where I exist

And that world is calling
So I'm crawling back to sea
Against the surge of waves that
Held us with an ancient grip beneath
Retreat to safer waters

That world is calling
So I'm crawling back to sea
Against the surge of waves that
Held us with an ancient grip beneath

Retreat to safer waters

This city's saving grace

But who ever knows

Nobody knows
