

Heaven Call Your Name

Jimi Jamison

An old box filled with long gone memories
Some pictures that we took down on the beach
You'd been kissed by the sun, we were looking so young
I can smell your perfume like you walked in the room
Tonight, I lose myself
Everything will be about you Why did Heaven call your name?
I don't know if you can hear me
I'm looking for answers
Why did Heaven call your name?
I don't know if you can hear me I've sold the old house, bought a brand new place
It's smaller, but I don't need that much space
I have tried to move on ever since you've been gone
Then I find something new that reminds me of you
And tears well up my eyes
More than just a phase I go through Why did Heaven call your name?
I don't know if you can hear me
I'm looking for answers
Why did Heaven call your name?
I don't know if you can hear me (Guitar Solo) Why did Heaven call your name?
I don't know if you can hear me
I'm looking for answers Why did Heaven call your name?
I don't know if you can hear me
I'm looking for answers Why did Heaven call your name?
I don't know if you can hear me...
Woah, oh, oh, oh
I lose myself

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>