

Whoever

Lewis Taylor

I wonder how we ever ended up this way together yet so far
Apart with nothing left to share
I guess you're gonna be leaving here today and
Even though it breaks my heart
I've still got room to care
I want to take this change to tell you something baby
I think you should know
That boy whose arms you run to
He was a friend of mine
I hope your bad intentions start to show
Whoever is the love in your life
He gotta hard time ahead of him
Whoever is the love in your life
Oh I know I know from experience
Whoever is the love in your life
You're gonna be too much for him
Whoever is the love in your life
I suppose there's nothing left for me to say
Another lover comes along another long goodbye
I know you're always had the upper hand and
Even though you're in the wrong
I'd give it one more try
Well if you change your mind
You know where to find me
I'll be always wanting more
Meanwhile I'll just sit back and let you run out to him
I hope to God he knows what's in store
Whoever is the love in your life
He gotta hard time ahead of him
Whoever is the love in your life
Oh I know I know from experience
Whoever is the love in your life
You're gonna be too much for him
Whoever is the love in your life
I never count on the reaction baby
When all did was try keep you satisfied
Didn't I keep you satisfied
Well I'd give it one more try
If only you'd let me baby
