Slow Dancer

Robert Plant

Slow, slow dancer, ooh, no hands for you
New moves to see
Oh, fast talker in dark [Incomprehensible] , for you
New words to hear
Oh, sly glances I half chance for you
The eye that sees
And the sun slips from the day
And the coolness brings relief
There's no torment 'neath the stars
In the stillness of the night
When the swirling has to cease
Behind the safety of the veil
Ooh, yeah
Now, in high places, darkened faces
So indifferent, in days to be
Oh, lost race, no loser, only winners
Return to seeb
New order can't be altered when the eyes
Refuse to see
And the sun slips the day
And the coolness brings relief
There's no torment 'neath the stars
In the stillness of the night
When the swirling has to cease
Behind the safety of the veil

Ah, ah, ah
Now, now, now, now
Soft, soft spoken, never could be broken, awaiting
The dawn light with me
Slow burning, school of learning, [Incomprehensible]
Builds down on me
Hearts leaping, hopes been reaching
To the heights, to the heights
These signs to see
Oh, baby
I should say now, baby, baby, baby
In the darkness
Oh, Lord, so good

Oh, Lord, so fine
In the darkness, in the darkness
Yes, yes, yes, yes
(Ah, ah, ah, ah)
Don't you wanna go?
(Ah, ah, ah, ah)
No, no, no, no, no
Don't you wanna go?
Don't you wanna go?
(Ah, ah, ah, ah)
Feels good, oh, yes
Please, please, please
So good, so good, so good, my baby
