

Eyes So Tired

Tad Morose

Hear the rainbow calling and I will rise in you to see right through to be in you In the middle of a solitudeFind the treasures archway and reach the secret stones to hold on to and make it through on the edges of a paradigmFind a way to see the days with eyes so tired of biased ways Serve the moment of absent fateFear of pain and sorrow will reign inside of you and lead you through the inner you in the center of a universe
