

Fingers In the Throat

Pig Destroyer

Long sleeved in the summer
Again in our gray shirts
Leaning against cinderblock walls
We even hide from the other prey But as soon as the lioness comes
We step forth and present our throats
Hoping this time it will be different
And then we bleed again

Songwriters

Jr Hayes; Brian Keith Harvey; Jason Scott Hull Published by RELAPSE RELEASE PUBLISHING

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>