Whatever It Takes

20-2-Life

We've all been hurt by love, it's out of our hands
For all it's worth, I'm drawing a line that's in the sand
Another morning just won't do
I need your love to shine on through or it won't be new
Whatever it takes, my love, I'll find it
Whatever it takes my love
To put the lonely days behind us, I'm laying it down
Whatever it takes, my love
If there's a chance for two hearts to celebrate
To blow out some candles and tempt the hands of fate
You make a wish, I'll make one too
Close your eyes, love, when you do, or it won't come true
Whatever it takes, my love, I'll find it
Whatever it takes my love
To put the lonely days behind us, I'm laying it down
Whatever it takes, my love
'Cause I've been wandering 'round with the same old blues
(Same old blues)
That have been dragging me down
If you feel the same way too, maybe it just takes two

And if we give thanks for our love at each new dawn
We'll find the strength and the will to carry on
The sun alone will never do
Without your love to shine on through it just won't be new
Whatever it takes, my love, I'll find it
Whatever it takes, my love
To put the lonely days behind us, I'm laying it down
Whatever it takes, my love
(Whatever it takes)
Whatever it takes, my love, I'll find it
Whatever it takes, my love
To put the lonely days behind us, I'm laying it down
Whatever it takes, my love, my love, my love
(Whatever it takes, ooh)
Whatever it takes, my love, I'll find it
Whatever it takes, my love
To put the lonely days behind us, I'm laying it down
(I'm laying it down)

Whatever it takes, my love
(Whatever it takes, my love)
