No Fear for the Setting Sun

Amon Amarth

I'm out of breath and all my muscles ache
It feels like spikes with every step I take
My heart beats, it's about to burst
This day my luck turned to the worseThere's nowhere to run, darkness is closing in
I don't fear the setting sun or the twilight that it brings
Dark clouds fill the sky, my fate is close at hand
Today is the day that I die, today I make my final standI fought so hard for taste of victory
The war is lost but I refuse to kneel
I can't go back now there is no retreat
I will fight hard for all that I believeI'm out of breath and all my muscles ache
It feels like spikes with every step I take
I can't go back now there is no retreat
I will fight 'til death, I make my final chargeI make my final charge
I have no fear in heart
I will no longer run
I do not fear the darkThere's nowhere to run, darkness is closing in
I don't fear the setting sun or the twilight that it brings
Dark clouds fill the sky, my fate is close at hand
Today is the day that I die, today I make my final stand
