Wildfires

The Limousines

You're forcing me
Using that witchcraft
And sorcery to torture me
It's something we can't control running like a wildfire
Something irrational running like a wildfire
Don't think it's natural running like a wildfire
And we're starting the wildfire
You let it slip

You like me biting on my bottom lip; thunder and lightning
A lick of sweat invite me somewhere we can finish this thunder and lightning
And I don't know how, but you aligned my stars
And somehow forever doesn't seem so far
I don't know how, but you aligned my stars
It's something we can't control running like a wildfire
Something irrational running like a wildfire
And we're starting the wildfire

It's something we can't control running like a wildfire Something irrational running like a wildfire Don't think it's natural running like a wildfire It's like we're animals, it's like we're animals Your sight blurs You can't find the right words well that's fine Your friends left it's last call I lit your cigarette and I saw the future in the flames The future in the flames It's something we can't control running like a wildfire Something irrational running like a wildfire Don't think it's natural running like a wildfire And we're starting the wildfire It's something we can't control running like a wildfire Something irrational running like a wildfire Don't think it's natural running like a wildfire It's like we're animals It's like we're animals
