

You've Got to Die

G. Love

You're just well to get ready, for you got to die
You're just well to get ready, for you got to die
It may be tomorrow Lord, you can't tell the minute or the hour
You're just well to get ready, for you got to die Well, you're just well to love your neighbor, for you got to die
You're just well to love your neighbor, you got to die
Well, it may be tomorrow Lord, you can't tell the minute nor the hour
But you're just well to get ready, for you got to die Well, you just well to live in union, for you've got to die
You're just well to live in union, for you've got to die
It may be tomorrow Lord, you can't tell the minute or the hour
You're just well to live in union, for you got to die Well, you just well love your enemy, 'cause you got to die
Well, you just well love your enemy, 'cause you got to die
Well, it may be tomorrow Lord, you can't know the minute or the hour
You just well love your enemy, 'cause you got to die Well, you just well to get ready, for you got to die
You just well to get ready, for you got to die
It may be tomorrow Lord, you can't tell the minute or the hour
You just well to get ready, for you got to die
