Think About It

Otis Redding

Wait, before you walk out that door
Hang your clothes in the closet
You're forgetting one thing
I'm the one who saved you
From a long lonely life
I'm the one who gave you
Your first taste to paradise
Look how you paying me back
Look how you turn in your bag
Please, don't do me like this, honey
All this good love you're gonna miss
Think about it, honey
You really ought to think about it
'Fore you leave me, dig this
I'm the one who showed you
How to live when you wanted to die
I'm the one who taught you
How to laugh when you wanted to cry
But look what you're doing to me

And look how you're hurting me
Please, don't do me like this
All of this good love, baby, you're gonna miss
Think about it, baby, listen
You really, really ought to think about it
'Fore you leave
You really ought to think about it
Deep down think about it
'Fore you leave me
Do this for me, honey
Don't make me no lonely man
Don't try to push me out of your plan
Don't try to kick out love aside
Just wait, before you tell me goodbye
Hmm, yeah, you really, really, really, really Really ought to think about it, how I give
You really, really, really ought to think about it, how I live
One million times, I said, I'm staying up all night
