

Eating Disorder

The Bunny The Bear

Disease.

I fell asleep on my knees.
I bit my tongue off in time for a brunch or a four course meal touch just to bleed.

But I won't let you down.

In heat, I'm a cat in the corner, a benefit concert for eating disorders.
But nothing has changed and yet nothing will stay the same...

Plant the seeds within the weeds.

Plant the seeds...

Disease.

I fell to sleep on my needs.
I missed your face from the moment I lied, from the first tear you cried...
Now I'm begging and pleading, but nothing is working.

I bleed.

I planted every last seed.
I water daily, but nothing is growing...
There's no change worth showing.
I've fallen apart. I've rolled up in the corner to die.
