Twin Sister

The summer's come again

And you will leave us

Always leaving, me behind

I'll wait for you hereIt's hard to choose the life you want

To throw up both your hands

To forget about everyone else

And decide which life is right for us

You seem to have made up your mind nowGrowing further

When you are here

We know that you won't stay

I'll wait for you hereThe summer's come againIt's hard to choose the life you want

To throw up both your hands

To forget about everyone else

And decide which life is right for us
