Ready, Set, Go

Caroline's Spine

scout and i were good friends ruled the neighborhood with no fear cause she was just one of the boys then until the day she started lookin' at me wierdshe said, "i wanna kiss you" then she threw me down to the grass but i was more scared than confused she said if i told her dad she'd kick my assshe grabed me by the face said, "on your mark, get ready, set ..."we stayed close as the years flew by went on to different high schools i remember she snuck up to my room one night asked me if i wanted to break some rulesshe said "i've dreamed of having you put me down, burn my bridge right to the ground you will never mind what i ever said before, i'm not just the girl next door no more" she put her hands upon my face said "on your mark, get ready, set, go" this'll be our little special place lets go find out what you knowsome things in your life you say othet things you say you won't...the very next morning i awoke with a chill she had left a flower on my window sill and as i viewed her footprints from the night before i realized i wasn't a boy no morei zoned out on her face on your mark get ready set go this was our little special place and i found out what i now know

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/