Helium

Halos

Here I am waiting, taking every chance I'm given
Feeling more and more alive with every note I'm singing

I do all I do until I can't go on
I put all I do into the sun

So when the day comes that I don't wake up
I'll float away, full of love, like helium
From heaven I won't worry
'Cause I left behind one hell of a story
Float away, full of love, like helium
From heaven I won't worry
'Cause I left behind one hell of a story

When I walk I walk until my shoes are torn and tattered
For my love I'll fight until my body's bruised and battered
That's all that matters

I do all I do until I can't go on
I put all I do into the sun

So when the day comes that I don't wake up
I'll float away, full of love, like helium
From heaven I won't worry
'Cause I left behind one hell of a story
Float away, full of love, like helium
From heaven I won't worry
'Cause I left behind one hell of a story

Open your eyes and soak it up
This life ain't long enough
So love all that you can
I'm rising up, I'm rising up

So when the day comes that I don't wake up
I'll float away, full of love, like helium
From heaven I won't worry
'Cause I left behind one hell of a story
Float away, full of love, like helium
From heaven I won't worry

'Cause I left behind one hell of a story
I left behind one hell of a story
