

In Despair

Odes Of Ecstasy

A prayer above
The seraph's mourn
His fate was known
So long ago His host awaits
Caress his face
A silent scene
The end begins The time for him so quickly passes by
So many things he wishes he could try
The word is why, why he must die
When life so precious a gift divine No sorrow can fill her soul
Her only son is dying, he'll be gone
A way out of this world
Invincible disease takes it all
