Splendor Star-Crossed Violets and Blue

RADIORADIO

I was so glad when you wrote it all down
Letters you sent me
The words you so carefully found
Who am I, who am I? she said
But a fool who fell out of stepYou are, you are beautiful
And boys like stupid girls
And I am no so coolHow could you not know that my aim was true?
The sodas we shared
And the hearts we so secretly drew
And they laughed, but we laughed right back
Didnt I make you feel like that?You are, you are beautiful
And boys like stupid girls
And I am not so cool
