Ball and Chain

Lionel Richie

Here I am standing in the mirror, looking in my eyes
Trying not to fool myself, and realize
Times are getting harder for us to get along
Everything about this love is all going wrong
You keep on telling me to do this, do that,
And I need to change my ways
But I think that maybe the price of this love,
Is too high to payBall and chain, Is the feeling that I am feeling tonight
When love's a, Ball and chain,
It don't matter who's wrong or rightI keep on living in confusion, wondering where I am at Trying to figure out if I should do this thing or that I can't see the future, and I can't change the past
But I'm feeling that this love of ours just ain't gonna last
I've been down one time, two times, three times, fou
I've been waiting for times to get better,
And I can't take it no moreBall and chain, that's the feeling that I am feeling tonight
This love's a, Ball and chain,
It don't matter who's wrong or rightTime, I would love for time to be on our side
But I know that this love affair, Is all over nowBall and chain, it's a feeling that I am feeling tonight
This love's a, Ball and chain
It don't matter who's wrong or right,
This love's a, Ball and chain,
It's a feeling that I am feeling inside
When love's a, Ball and chain,
It don't matter who's wrong or right

Songwriters
YOUNG, PAUL/BARFIELD, DREWPublished by Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing, STEADY SOUND GROOVES

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/