

Put Some Clothes On

Breathe Carolina

I got a situation baby I hope you can handle the way my hands are shaking when the director says action i know hollywood's got me i got the notion that she's already done it's hard enough with the camera alone i see your eyes and they start to move they catch a hint of my selfishness. i'll see it in you by the person you are in me (and you forever) i'm simple like this, just as simple can be (it's me and you forever) i said it before but i got to believe in me and you forever i wanna see me with the person i am in you (and me forever) a permanent reminder on the silver screen may haunt me as tape is rolling in sequence to my heartbeat it's safe to say "i know hollywood's got me". just wait, hold on, one more, let's go, we're on the spot and now we're gonna give it up i like the way you honestly know that this is the only real love scene
