Miss You

Julia Price

Itâ€™s not as simple as a bandaid
You can just rip off with one pull
Itâ€™s more like running with your hands tied
Eventually youâ€™re gonna fall

Itâ€™s hurting layer after layer
In the most unexpected ways
Like when Iâ€™m smiling in the sunshine
Then your favorite song starts to play

I see you in everything I do, youâ€™re in every word I hear, in all the clothes I wear
I want to look the other way, but then someone says your nameâ€”youâ€™re still here

(CHORUS)
I miss you
I miss you

Itâ€™s like thereâ€™s postcards with your picture
Coming through the mail each day
At every gas station and stoplight
I swear I see your car pull away

A guy with a baseball hat on
He turns around
I canâ€™t help but to feel disappointed
I thought it was you now

I taste you in everything I eat, I see you walk on every street, youâ€™re in every newspaper I read
And when I look up at the sky, all I can think of is your eyesâ€”they were the same color blue

(CHORUS)
I miss you
I miss you

Today I heard the funniest joke and I laughed
But I didnâ€™t hear you laughing back
It didnâ€™t sounds the same
And tonight I couldnâ€™t fall asleep so I turned on late-night TV
And your favorite movie played back

Played back, played back

(CHORUS)
I miss you
I miss you
