William Control

Hate, I would forever lie
I would fake all the times
That you broke me down miseryHate covered in broken glass
My skeleton bones will last
Far beyond flowers and dust
So where would I be?Love the feeling I've lost control
Failing so beautiful
When you left me there miseryHate blacken my artery
Harden my every fiber of grief stricken love
So where would I be?
