

Run Away

Ben Moody

Days, I travelled on for days
Through everything you threw at me
I never saw the light
Now, the pain keeps digging in
Reminder of mistakes
I never wish I madeI don't want to run away
I don't want to be the one who falls
I want to stay but you won't change at allAnd now the fear that hides inside you
Flushes out of every pore
As I walk beside you, I feel your hate surround me
I don't want to be you anymoreI don't want to run away
I don't want to be the one who falls
I want to stay but you won't change at allYou won't listen to the world outside
You won't take a look inside
I can't take you anymoreI don't want to run away
I don't want to be the one who falls
I want to stay but you won't change at allI don't want to run away
I don't want to be the one who falls
I want to stay but you won't change at allI lie on my own
Never will I love another
She knows, oh she knows
Keeping the ghost of a loverI died all alone
Never will I hold another
She knows, God she knows
I am the ghost of her lover
