

Unions and the Law

Street Dogs

Like Bob said the times are a changing
Unfortunately for us boss man's rearranging
Doesn't care about your wife and kids
But only the gold that is his Won't hear eleventh hour underbids
Or part with the assets that he thinks are his Only knows how to downsize
He'll see an increase by losing you Not even aware that his moral code has died Unions and the law, what's wrong with being treated fairly
Unions and the law, we've got to defend ourselves somehow Society's a much faster place now
Seems like protest lost out somehow
I once heard a composer sing
I can't stand up for falling down Got to rise up and be accounted for Maybe that sentiment will arrive
Back in town but only time Itself will reveal this concept In ending this rant we'll stay idealistic Unions and the law, what's wrong with being treated fairly
Unions and the law, we've got to defend ourselves somehow
Unions and the law, they got to come back stronger today
Unions and the law, we've got to defend ourselves somehow Like Bob said the times are a changing
Unfortunately for us boss man's rearranging
Doesn't care about your wife and kids
But only the gold that is his Unions and the law, what's wrong with being treated fairly
Unions and the law, we've got to defend ourselves somehow
Unions and the law, they got to come back stronger today
Unions and the law, we've got to defend ourselves somehow

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>