Battlecry

SERVANT

Early morning, shadows come again,
They come to dine, to feast upon the misery and pain, and the sorrow they find,
Evil comes with fear to paralyses, but it can never conquer truth with lies.

Sound the battle cry,
We need to stand and fight,
Sound the battle cry,
It's time to choose your side,
Sound the battle cry.

Evil forces hiding in the night, moving unopposed, are forced to flee in terror as the light and the truth disclose,
Evil schemes are soon reduced to helplessness, face to face with the blinding prayer of holiness.

Sound the battle cry,
We need to stand and fight,
Sound the battle cry,
It's time to choose your side,
Sound the battle cry.

Sound the battle cry,
We need to stand and fight,
Sound the battle cry,
It's time to choose your side,
Sound the battle cry,
We need to stand and fight,
Sound the battle cry,
It's time to choose your side.
