

Vacant in the 21st Century

Matt Maltese

Here I am
Living with old ideas
In a country at a loss
With a fetishize in bars
He's a family man
With a family plan
Laughing in the dispatch box
There's another protest lost
And I can feel the edge
I can feel the edge
But I still gotta try
To sleep through
In this stale room
Though I can feel a vacancy at night
And they fail you
And they jail you
And I can feel a vacancy at night
The same old ads
That same old man
Sing by your happiness
It's included with this dress
The swindled kiss
On our seventh drink
Lamenting modern age
Just trying to get laid
And I can feel the edge
I can feel the edge
But I still gotta try
To sleep through
In this stale room
Though I can feel a vacancy at night
And they fail you
Then they jail you
And I can feel a vacancy at night
And I know darling I
Neglected you for my throne
But I can't help it I
Am another hopeless drunk
Nothing's changing
So come on and change the strum
Oh, but I still gotta try
To sleep through

Oh, in this stale room
Though I can feel a vacancy at night
And they help you
And then they f- you
And I can feel a vacancy at nightI can feel a vacancy at night
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>