Cats and Dogs

The Head and the Heart

Somewhere underneath
The floorboard
I will sweep my gardenUnderneath the cupboard
Lives a mouse
And he discovered
There was nothing thereNothin' there to discoverFallin' from the sky
There are raindrops in my eyes
And my thoughts are diggin' in the backyard
My roots have grown but I don't know where they areDon't know where they are
I don't know where they are
My roots have grown but I don't know where they areCats and dogs and rooster calls
Telephones and pay phone stallsThey take away
The lonely days
For nowThey take away
The lonely days
For now
