Lost in Your Love

At Vance

The summer breeze in your hair
Seems to be so warm and tender
Is your love really true?That it can't stand anything
Where we gotta go through
And I'll send my love to youThrough the dark and the night
Through the day and the light
I will hold you foreverAnywhere that you go
I would share all my dreams
But it seems you don't understandThat I am lost in your love
'Cause you came like a force from above
So I will open my heart
Won't you try, try to make a new start?But times may change as they say
But my love for you is far beyond their range
Nobody's with me as I'm on my way
Watching the waves in the sea searching for my destinyThrough the dark and the night
Through the day and the light
I will hold you foreverAnywhere that you go
I would share all my dreams
But it seems you don't understandThat I am lost in your love
'Cause you came like a force from above
So I will open my heart
Won't you try, try to make a new start?Ooh
