

Idolise

The Flaws

idolise something with your right eye i'll deny, all i have i'll slip right in and we'll be fine lets give it half a take to realign our lie you just leave wanting more im waiting on a train to carry my heart away from innocence you deal in hands that i cant win next time your in town gimme that chance again cause we've hanging around im feeling let down as you walk right in erring on the side of relaxed caution i dont regret a thing as the mighty fail to win you left again last night i though you might have been out to settle a score

cause we've hanging around im feeling so let down

oh baby we've hanging around im feeling so let down
