Monopoly

Urge Overkill

We're given life to live in

And we're never gonna live it again

Gotta lead it like a dog on a leash, yeah

But my dragon kinda is wearing thinRolling dice with God as our witness

Down avenues, utilities and towns

It's survival of the richest

Moving our sinful pieces 'round and 'roundIt's you and me on the Monopoly board You land on the block where I got three hotels

But it's not like you want me to winIt was your face that placed the blame on you

And your kiss that turned to brown

Your face that placed the blame on you

And your face that turned me downBut when the night is over

And you need a friend

Shame on you

You're your own MonopolyDeath is always annoying But then nothing here is meant to last

We're spending too much time on life's preparations Haven't we lived and died before in the past?

I know we haveNow it's you and me on the Monopoly board

You land on the block where I got three hotels

Now you cheated before 'cause you know you're gonna win

And you do it againIt was your face that placed the blame on you

And your kiss that turned to brown

Your face that placed the blame on you

And your face that turned me downBut when the night is over

And you need a friend

Shame on you

You're your own Monopoly'Cause when the night is over

And you need a friend

Shame on you

You're your own MonopolyYes, you know you are

Your own Monopoly

Yes, you know you are Oh Monopoly

Monopoly

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/