Robert Pollard

Looking at my window
At first I didn't like you
And now I need time
Now I know It would change my life
Staring out my window
Coming into sight
It would change my life And then you went away
And then you fucked my life
Staring out my window
I can't see past it
You brought me down that night
