

How Can I Help You Say Goodbye

Patty Loveless

through the back window, of a '59 wagon i watched my best friend Jaime slippin' futher away, i kept of wavin', til i couldn't see her, and through my tears i asked again why we couldn't stay.

momma whispered softly, time will ease your pain life's about changing, nothing ever stays the same, and she said how can i help you to say goodbye, it's ok to hurt and its ok to cry, come let me hold you
and i will try

how can i help you to say goodbye.

i sit on our bed, he packed his suitcase i held a picture of our wedding day his hands were tremblin' , we both were cryin' he kissed me gently and then quickly walked away.

i called up momma and she said time will ease your pain life's about changin nothing ever stays the same,
and she said how can i help you to say goodbye,

sittin' with momma, alone in her bed room she opened her eyes, then squeezed me hand she said i have to go now, my time here is over and with her final words she tried to help me understand

momma whispered softly time will ease your pain life's about changin nuthing ever stays the same and she said, how can i help you to say goodbye
