Clairvoyant

The Story So Far

[Parker Cannon]
I think you'll notice when things become different
The good vibes in our lives won't feel so consistent
And less becomes more cause the weight is too heavy
I swim in the water that's breaking your levee[Hook]
The way that you left me is alright, its alright
If I argue the point than we yell and we fight
And I won't be home for the rest of the night
You might hate my words but you know that I'm right
You know that I'm right[Intermission]This is your life there's no way to run from it
The doubt in your brain or the pain in your stomach
I only have but one complaint at the moment
Don't paint me black when I used to be golden[Hook]Don't paint me black when I used to be golden

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/