

An Angel's Funeral

Agathodaimon

A weeping procession moving through the snow
 Silent pale faces, perceptible pain
 Winter silence, terrible tranquility
Cold eyes starin' far awayMirrors of mourning, nothing else
 Blinded by grief they are everyone
 Awaitin' your final way, watchin' the frozen pit
And see we've lost realityMirrors of mourning, nothing else
 Blinded by grief they are everyone
 Awaitin' your final way, watchin' the frozen pit
 And see we've lost realityA field of crystal tears
 The downfall of Heaven, snow softly falls
 Frozen tears from above
This bitter loss, an angel's funeralA casket filled with beloved flesh
 Cold as the world around
 I can't believe what my eyes see
Through clouds of icy breathNo bird sings in dead trees
 No sound fills the frozen air
 I stand at the angel's tomb alone
A whole world ending to existMirrors of mourning, nothing else
 Blinded by grief they are everyone
 Awaitin' your final way, watchin' the frozen pit
And see we've lost realityA weeping procession moving through the snow
 Silent pale faces, perceptible pain
 Winter silence, a terrible tranquility
 Cold eyes starin' far away
