

Outside Looking In

Stretch Arm Strong

Let's goWe've come a long way through the good and bad

And it's so much more than what it seems

Sometimes I take it for grantedWe've come a long way through the good and bad

And it's so much more than what it seems

Sometimes I take it for granted, I take it for grantedOne, two, three, goWhich way will the wind blow?

I don't know if you will ever know

How much this means to meSo let me take this opportunity to say

Thank you for what you've given to me

Thank you for what you've given to meThere's no telling how long things will ever last

Let's not forget the memories, the memories of our past
