

Calling

Donots

All I want is everything.
Is that too much to ask?
All I want is the here and now,
the future and the past. And this is the moment
but this is dried and true.
I'm being lonely, ain't no fun
when I'm not with you. I'm calling you.
Calling, calling,
calling your name. All I want is one more chance to prove myself to you.
All I know is I am best at what I do not do. And this is the moment and this is seamy through.
Now all that's left is to pretend,
I'm calling you. I'm calling you.
Calling, calling,
calling your name.
Calling, calling,
now I'm calling your name. And can keep holding on to you but I can't really hold my own.
I keep on holding on to you and I can even hold my own. Calling, calling,
calling your name.
Calling, calling,
now I'm calling your name. All I want is everything.
Is that too much to ask?
All I want is the here and now,
the future and the past. But I can even hold my own. Calling, calling,
now I'm calling your name

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>