

Choose Thy Love

Nathan Moore

There's no easy way to say it.
No way to say it right.
We'll be talking all day late into the night
    and in the morning
    we'll come to see the light better for knowing worth the fightCause I love you it's growing too
    Makes me want to grow old for the first time with you so let's have it
            come on let's be true choice words
    we both got a fewWe're both of us missing things the other needs we're both of us twisting some nights in our sleep we're both of finding sometimes it hard to breathe we're both of us nervous sometimes even at easeBut if I know something let's give the devil's voice
            love thy choice
        then no matter the army's doubt deploys
        we'll fight together
            to win our joys
