Saving Grace

Crash Kings

Take my hand, I know it doesn't Seem enough for me to feel it
Understand that I will never be the one
Who traps us in, I know it doesn't Seem enough for us to keep it
Seize the day when I will always be the one whoTakes you for a ride and then decides
That it's not right to keep on like this
I will dismiss all the thoughts and feelings
That consume me from the very start
I saw the art in painting everybody else
To be the savior of the worldYou're my saving grace
You're my saving graceTake my hand and know that every second is forever
Don't pretend that I would ever be the one who loses faith
In knowing that we'll always be together
Check my pulse 'cause I will always be the one whoTakes you for a ride and then decides
That it's not right to keep on like this
I will dismiss all the thoughts and feelings
That consume me from the very start
I saw the art in painting everybody else
To be the savior of the worldYou're my saving graceStay with me late into this night
Lay with me, and I promise to make you feel
You're my saving grace
