

Maybe It's Time (Gravity)

Green River Ordinance

You've been walking around with your head held low
Another Friday night stayin' home wishin' on a star that you just can't see
A broken telescope robs another dreamer's dream
You got a heart of gold but it's lost it's shine
Go on, shake the rust off, let it ride
Nothin' beautiful comes without fight Don't let gravity pull ya and push you around
Don't let heat from the sun burn your wings to the ground
Keep the hope in your heart, cling to the light
Thinking lately, maybe, maybe it's time You drive a million miles and it's a weary road
It's gonna take some nerve 'cause it's a heavy load
Go on and give 'em hell, til the last bell rings
Oh such a simple thing Don't let gravity pull ya and push you around
Don't let heat from the sun burn your wings to the ground
Keep the hope in your heart, cling to the light
Thinking lately, maybe, maybe it's time to be strong
Time to be bright, Time to be strong, baby, open up your eyes
