Intro (Sorry)

Saint Saviour

I've made considerable mistakes tried to be someone else I've smoothed the creases from my face fought a war for myselfI could say that I was sorry without losing face but I'm far too proud to let this goYou say simplicity is key but my head won't believe Cos I'm complicated to a t lose a thread, roll a sleeveI could say that I was sorry without losing face
this goI could tell you not to worry 'bout your number in the race but I'm far too proud to let you know
