Stars

Marie Hines

StarsYou make me feel like the stars
Fell from the sky and rested within me
And I'm living proof that a heart can swell
To the size of a galaxyI'm bruised from running down the miles
I shake but it's this ball of fire, I swear
It trembles in my bonesCause you're my star
You're my starThis sea of faces
They fade into the darkened light of the city
And I see nothing but you
As I fall into your gravityKeep breathing it's keeping me alive
I'm swimming deeper in the high, I swear
You tremble in my bonesCause you're my star
You're my star
Higher than my love
You will always be where I go
You're my starAnd you take me home
You take me home
You take me home
Take me homeYou make me feel like the stars fell from the sky and rested within me
And my fingertips could reach to the dark
To keep the gods companyCause you're my star
You're my star
You're my star
You're my starAnd you take me home
You take me home
Take me home, to you
