Chaos Within

This Ending

Skin starts crawling
Maggots defiling our temples
Trying to fit us to the mold, forced into their form
A desperate attempt
At achieving something grand
Each time progress is matched with neglectA hopeless attempt to change
Crushed by the weight of this worldHow can anyone get ahead?
When always looking back
Dissecting each other down to our core the price for self-esteem
Is another man's failure
An infected equation, which can only destroyChaos Within, keep this boiling current at bay
Chaos Within, it will burn this world awayA hopeless attempt to change
Crushed by the weight of this worldAre we nothing but vermin?
An inbred disease?
What is expected
Becoming a crushing weight
Seeking a way to cope
To find resolutionChaos Within, keep this boiling current at bay
Chaos Within, it will burn this world away
